Questions 36-40

Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

Baca petikan di bawah dan jawab soalan-soalan berikut.

The spider monkey is native to the rain forest of South America. It has a powerful tail and swings from branch to branch. When it hangs upside down, it resembles a huge spider. Spider monkeys reside in rain forests and prefer to live in the trees than on the ground.

A spider monkey travels with a group of about thirty. Then, that same group breaks off into smaller groups that position themselves in the same surrounding area. The female is more dynamic and will take charge. She will lead the group to food sources. Males are less capable of providing resourceful ways for the group.

Spider monkeys are active during the day and sleep at night. They settle themselves high in trees that are unguarded by branches and leaves, leaving an open space to see the sky. They do this for two reasons: a food source is set for them in the trees and to keep away from any threat. If they are attacked, they will defend themselves by scaring their enemies. If that doesn't work, they'll run away. The life span of the spider monkey is around twenty-seven years.
